

new 12" out now:
sven tasnadi & jun06 - jam sessions (cargo015)

sven tasnadi and jun06 have already delivered so many strong releases that they can no longer be referred to as newcomers. both have demonstrated their skills individually on several labels and together on cargo edition last year. the focus of their tracks is definitely organic techhouse, which does not settle for samples from too often quoted sound libraries, but rather places emphasis on originality and good handicraft.

"pound cake" relies on the roots of techhouse. a child's vocal nestles amongst a rough groove in a laid-back but precise way, and provides the track with a sinister flair.

the b side "take eleven" concentrates on a simple but effective beat which gives in to a vocal and strings theme.

juno6 and sven tasnadi demonstrate once again why they can be called some of the best producers in leipzig.
